

REPORT

HURRICANE IAN UPDATE AS OF DECEMBER 31, 2022

Hurricane Ian made landfall in Florida on September 28, 2022. From the date of landfall to December 31, 2022, Volunteer Florida Foundation collected over $56 million in donations for Hurricane Ian relief through its Florida Disaster Fund.

As of December 31, 2022, Volunteer Florida Foundation distributed over $8 million in funding to non-profits working on Hurricane Ian response in Florida with an additional $35 million committed to the rebuilding effort with details to be finalized.

We have included a Statement of Revenues and Expenditures specifically for our Hurricane Ian operations at the end of this report.

As of December 31, 2022, Volunteer Florida Foundation has initiated five rounds of response grants distributed amongst 34 non-profit organizations working in areas of Florida affected by Hurricane Ian.

These organizations have provided the following, among other services:

- Resources for children in need during disasters through not-for-profit organizations geared toward children as well as through school-based foundations;
- Necessary tools to empower partner agencies on the front lines;
- Home repair for first responders;
- Home hazard mitigation and repairs, mucking and gutting and roof tarping;
- Rebuilding services for affected homes and;
- Distributing food and other emergency supplies, sheltering and providing emotional care to victims.

Volunteer Florida Foundation works with a network of non-profit partners to provide communication and support as they respond to Hurricane Ian. In conjunction with the Florida Volunteer Organizations Active in Disaster (FLVOAD), Volunteer Florida Foundation and these organizations stay connected and coordinate their efforts at the local level.

Additional funding and fundraising will continue for the foreseeable future.
